

A fragment of a hinged facade that protect against excessive insolation and overheating of premises

